Words, words, words

flight: a trip by airplane ticket: a document that allows you to travel departure: the time or place where a flight leaves arrival: when a flight reaches its destination destination: the place you are travelling to return ticket: a ticket to travel to a place and back one-way ticket: a ticket for one direction only baggage: bags or suitcases carry-on bag: a small bag you take onto the plane checked baggage: luggage placed in the airplane cargo area boarding pass: the document you use to get on the plane gate: the place where passengers board the airplane passport: an official travel document

CANADA TIP

Many Canadian airlines allow online check-in starting 24 hours before departure. Checking in online can save time at the airport and lets you download your boarding pass to your phone. Always check your airline's baggage rules before travelling because fees may apply for checked luggage.

Reading

Booking a Flight

Maria wants to visit her sister in Vancouver. She goes to an airline website to buy a ticket. She enters her departure city, destination, travel dates, and the number of passengers. Several flights appear with different prices and departure times. Maria chooses a morning flight because it is less expensive. Before paying, she checks the baggage allowance and seat selection. She enters her personal information and pays with her credit card. A few minutes later, she receives a confirmation email with her electronic ticket.

Before travelling, Maria checks in online 24 hours before her flight and downloads her boarding pass to her phone.
